2

30+

Our years of experience in managing risk and providing insurance solutions in sport.

3

15+

Our team know the right questions to ask insurers to get the best deal for you from insurers in Australia and overseas. We offer an exclusive package for personal accident and professional liability, and can draw on our Gallagher sport specialist colleagues around the world.

4

The cheapest isn't always the best. Our skill in tailoring what is standard to meet specific needs means you benefit from our deep understanding across different sporting codes. Your interests and needs are well represented by us when we go to source the best solution for you.

5

We help you to reduce risk and premiums through education, raising awareness and training based on real data trends for your players, coaches and staff. Our insights can also inform your risk management policy development from mouthguards through to head gear and more.

6

When you need us most, we have an in-house specialist sports claims team to help manage the process efficiently, even for extreme or infrequent incidents. You benefit from the years of experience we've had in dealing with virtually every type of sporting claim.

7

We constantly innovate for your benefit. Just because it's always been done a certain way, don't expect us to follow the herd as we explore new insurance markets, analyse claims data and drive new digital service solutions for your members.
